Another one ca. 2005. A little sketch, maybe a few minutes on the subway, comprised of some sparse notations of a face was fleshed out from imagination and memory. This person doesn't exist. #draw #sketch #ballpointpen #portrait #art #imaginarydrawing #sketchbook #artsoctober #cosprings #inktober #subwaydrawing

I remember seeing this little disembodied, mostly imagined head in his sketchbook at one of those silly life drawing events at a sandwich place in Williamsburg. This was, I think, the first thing I'd seen Raphael make after his Fellowship project, and I remember thinking that it might be my favorite of every beautiful drawing I'd seen him make. It may still be my favorite.
